

Je vous souhaite bonne chance pour l'action de demain. J'envoie un petit message d'encouragement de la part d'Euroclassica, s'il est utile.

Euroclassica supports your campaign to keep Latin and Greek on the school programme, so that the study of Classical world, its languages and civilisation, can be offered to all pupils regardless of their background and social class. The skills developed by learning ancient languages and cultures and the depth of knowledge of the origins of our European languages and cultures are valuable and necessary to all our future citizens. All classicists in Europe are certain that teachers of Latin and Greek in France will do all they can, using all their ingenuity and tenacity, to ensure that Classical Studies survive in some form in French schools. We have kept the flame of Classical Studies alive for two millennia and have suffered many setbacks and seen off many threats. A small political reform will not cause us to give up the fight for Latin and Greek.
